David Wootton dinner

Friday 26th February 2010

The Master, Andrew McMillan, hopes that you and your guests will join him for dinner in the Lady Violet Room at the National Liberal Club. The guests of honour will be Mr Alderman and Sheriff David Wootton, and Mrs Liz Wootton.

The office of Sheriff goes back to the Middle Ages; today, two Sheriffs are elected on Midsummer's Day every year in Guildhall, with duties including attending the Lord Mayor in carrying out his official duties, attending sessions of the Central Criminal Court and presenting petitions to Parliament. Alderman Wootton was Master of the Worshipful Company of Fletchers in 2005/06, and was elected to the ward of Langbourn in the same year.

Although numbers are restricted, the Master looks forward to an excellent turnout for this special addition to the Guild programme this year. Please return applications by Monday 1st February. It will not be possible to refund applications after this date.

The Master is also a member of the Worshipful Company of Fletchers, and David Wootton had hoped to attend our Guild Installation Dinner in October; sadly he was unable to do this due to a clash with a State visit. We are therefore delighted to have a second opportunity to entertain David and Liz, as well as ourselves, and raise the profile of our Civic links. This will be a relatively informal occasion and dress will be lounge suits.
